

Maitland High School

People say...

...I am 'strict'; that MHS has uniform expectations that are strict; that the focus on 'no disruption in classes' is strict; that no tolerance of or swearing or abusing others is (you guessed it) ...strict. I think the word 'fair' is a much better substitute. And let's not forget care: this is a high care and commitment to students school, where every young person's right to achieve their best in a safe, happy, and well-supported environment is championed. Principal, Paula Graham.

"The principal spoke proudly and passionately of past and current students. She enthusiastically encouraged high academic achievement, striving towards excellence, and welcomed school participation and representation. Wellbeing and inclusion support were also strongly promoted."

"We have done extensive research on schools in the area and have found that Maitland High School excels in providing a well-rounded education, extra-curricula activities and a safe learning environment."

"We were impressed by the enthusiasm of the school principal when talking about the school, her students and opportunities. The Wellbeing Dept impressed us showing they were open and well-prepared to cater for individual needs."

"Throughout our research process, we consistently found Maitland High School to be exceptionally responsive and supportive. The school boasts an impressive social media presence. We were particularly impressed by Maitland High's proactive approach in providing students with valuable work opportunities."

"We were astounded to hear about the innovative programs and courses offered and we were extremely impressed by the anti-bullying stance of the school."

"We found that the core values of Maitland High aligned with that of our own family... we believe that the wellbeing and holistic approach that you school provides is what our son needs to be a successful citizen in a dynamic, fast paced world."
